

JA Marketing Principles[®] 2

JA Marketing Principles 2, a one-semester teacher-led course, introduces high school students to marketing and some basic marketing techniques.

This course has received California A-G approval from High School Articulation, Office of Undergraduate Admissions, University of California.

Students will:

- Learn the necessary concepts applicable to state and national educational standards
- Apply these standards-based concepts to the real world
- Synthesize elective concepts through a cumulative, tangible deliverable (project)
- Analyze a business situation or principle through the use of a case study
- Demonstrate the skills necessary for future career pathway success

Volunteers engage with students through a variety of activities that includes subject matter guest speaking and coaching or advising for case study and project course work. Volunteer activities help students better understand the relationship between what they learn in school, their future career, and their successful participation in today's global economy.
