	JA Be Money $mart Supplement JA Be Money $mart provides students the resources and knowledge to take control of their financial destiny. (3-9 Grade) Its interactive activities allow students to explore the basics of becoming Money $mart. Young students will discover what money is and how banks help us keep it safe. Available as a workbook or a PDF file.
	JA Excellence through Ethics This program resource contains lessons focusing specifically on decision-making, business ethics vs. personal ethics, and facing difficult decisions with honor, among others. Choose one or as many modules as you want. (4-5 Grade) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Session 1 - Having Money When You Need It - Students will examine the ethical responsibility of spending money on need-based goods and services before want-based goods and services. (Financial Literacy) • Session 2 - To Borrow or Not To Borrow - They will view borrowing money from the perspective of the borrower, the lender, and address the impact borrowing may have on others who were not directly involved. (Financial Literacy) • Session 3 - Get the Word Out—Ethically - Students learn that the successful creation of a product or service ultimately depends on the consumer and although making a profit is important for a business, the desire for profit should not override the goal of customer satisfaction. (Entrepreneurship) • Session 4 - Developing Your Work Ethic - Students will develop an understanding of a good and strong work ethic. Students will learn to recognize their own work ethic, and realize that it may change or be tested from situation to situation. (Work Readiness) • Session 5 - The Ethics of Saving for a Rainy Day - Students explore wants, needs, and savings as they practice three goals of ethical spending and saving through a scenario exercise. (Financial Literacy) • Session 6 - Balancing Business and the Environment - Students learn that most businesses strive to be good corporate citizens and make every effort to protect the environment. However, sometimes businesses deplete natural resources and the environment is damaged. Harming the environment or using up natural resources is not only an environmental issue, it is bad for business. Students will consider the role businesses play in environmental stewardship and in preventing and resolving environmental problems. (Entrepreneurship; Financial Literacy) • Session 7 - Reasonable and Fair Pricing - What is a fair price and how is it determined? How do companies price their products? Students examine the dual role of competition and consumers in pricing products. Through a pricing game, students discover that competition helps keep prices low. (Entrepreneurship; Financial Literacy) • Session 8 - Ethical Decisions during Unexpected Events - Students look at how various unexpected events can affect their business. Their response to those events can have positive or negative consequences. They learn to distinguish between ethical and unethical business decisions by asking themselves questions that guide the decision-making process. (Work Readiness; Entrepreneurship) • Session 9 - Ethical Customer Service and Being Ethical Customers - Much of the success of free enterprise relies on advertising and marketing. Observing the power of creative promotions to make products appealing, students will examine the ethics obligations of merchants to follow through and deliver on the expectations their advertising creates. Students also will look at ways that consumers can take unfair advantage of merchants. (Entrepreneurship; Financial Literacy) Available as a workbook or a PDF file.
